POLICY

Premier will provide employees with the necessary equipment and materials to accomplish business goals, and it is assumed that employees will be prudent in the use of supplies and equipment.

Any employee utilizing equipment belonging to Premier or its divisions is responsible for the reasonable care and maintenance of the equipment.

Any necessary repair or replacement of equipment should be brought to the attention of the appropriate manager who must authorize all repairs or replacements in advance. In the event the employee is terminated, all equipment issued to the employee by Premier or purchased with Premier funds (including such items as calculators, laptop or other computer equipment) must be returned, along with other company property such as the policy and procedure manual, operations guides, etc. Personal files on a company-owned PC or mobile device are the property of Premier per our Acceptable Use policy and any expectation for retention of ownership is forfeited once placed on the company asset. Any exceptions to this rule will require the approval of the Chief Information Officer (CIO).
